Construction underway on seminary site complex

Construction is underway on U.S. Hwy. 90 near St. Augustine Seminary on Notre Dame de la Mer, a 60-unit retirement complex for low income elderly and handicapped, according to the Rev. George Murphy, director of the Diocese of Biloxi's elderly housing programs.

To be owned and operated by the diocese's elderly housing program, the four-story masonry retirement complex being constructed by James Reeves Construction of Laurel is expected to be completed by December 1988, said the Rev. Murphy.

Notre Dame de la Mer will house elderly persons 62 years or older, or handicapped, with annual incomes of between $10,000-$14,000, according to the Rev. Murphy.

Being constructed on 216 acres adjacent to St. Augustine Seminary on U.S. Hwy 90, the facility will contain 45 one-bedroom and 15 efficiency apartments, six of which are to be units for the handicapped located on the ground floor equipped with eye-level kitchen facilities and feature bathroom facilities completely accessible by wheelchair.

To mirror the Biloxi diocese's three retirement apartment complexes in Biloxi and Ocean Springs, the complex will offer its elderly and handicapped residents a noon congregate meal, room call bells and 24-hour security. Designed by architect Leonard Collins of Biloxi, the facility is to be equipped with a complete sprinkler system and smoke alarms, said the Rev. Murphy.

The facility will be constructed with $1.7 million of the $2.3 million U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) loan to the diocese's housing program.

Income generated by the operation of the complex will repay the 40 year, direct low interest HUD loan.

November start dates set for Bay-Waveland school improvement programs

BY DENA BISNETTE

Several new phases of a school system improvement program begun last year by the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School District are scheduled to start in November.

According to Superintendent of Education Roger Oge', the program began when he took office in July 1986.

Some of the items being implemented or planned are requirements of the Mississippi Education Reform Act or state accreditation standards, such as the implementation of kindergarten for the first time during the 1986-87 school term.

Others, such as the elimination of ability grouping on the elementary school level, had never been tried in the Bay-Waveland district before but were found by the administration to be beneficial to the students.

Oge' recently presented the plan to the board, along with a cover statement.

The statement calls for the cooperation of the board, administrators, teachers, parents and the community if successful implementation is to be accomplished.

"Specifically, the goals of the Bay St. Louis-Waveland School System are to develop in students the mastery of basic skills and fundamental processes; intellectual abilities; vocational skills and knowledge; social, civic, and cultural understandings; citizen participation; enculturation insights; moral and ethical character; emotional well-being; creativity and aesthetic expression; and a better self," the statement said in part.

"These goals are approached under the constraint of the Education Reform Act of 1982."

"This includes the incorporation of the principles of effective schools, which are the following: a safe and orderly school environment; a principal who provides instructional management; the expectation of success; a more clearly defined purpose of schooling; and the measurement of student performance."

"The efforts to secure advances can only be hindered by the attitude that the system is presently serving its students well."

"Adherence to formerly held beliefs and actions whose implicit design is to continue with the comfort of the status quo is the greatest threat to the ultimate success of this improvement plan."

The improvement plan is expected to be a forerunner to development of a five-year plan for instructional improvement that school districts must have under a state mandate, Oge' said.

Goals are divided under several headings, including providing a positive school climate.

A positive school climate, according to Oge', includes a safe, orderly learning environment; health programs for the protection of staff and students; safe, efficient and economically operated transportation; a positively organized discipline program; recognition of student and staff achievements; and community support.

On Thursday, one of the steps in meeting these criteria will be completed when the board takes bids on an addition to Waveland Elementary School, part of the district's long-range building program for which a $3.5 million bond issue was passed earlier this year.

A plan for the long-range building program has been developed and calls for renovations and additions at all four of the schools in the district. In addition, funds have been allocated for air conditioning at North Bay Elementary School.

Other accomplishments planned or achieved in this area include implementation of kindergarten in 1985, closing St. Rose Fifth Grade Center, a leased facility, when the Waveland addition makes room for those students in a district-owned

The Hancock County Port and Harbor Commission gave the fixed base operator at Stennis International Airport 30 days to answer some questions about operations in the park.

Inovair International, Ltd., the fixed base operator, was represented by William Carson, president and Barbara O'Malley, marketing director.

Port and Harbor Commission Director Harold Olsen said Inovair officials were questioned about what they are doing to provide the minimum requirements as outlined in the lease agreement.

According to Olsen among the services not being provided as outlined in the lease agreement are flight training and a mechanic on duty at least eight hours a day.

"The answers supplied by Carson were puzzling to the commission," Olsen said.

He compared the airport to a drugstore, citing reasons why drug stores got rid of soda fountains and why airports should not have to offer all services, Olsen stated.

Project funding for improvements is based on general aviation traffic, which has decreased significantly since Inovair acquired the lease at Stennis nearly a year ago, Olsen said.

Hancock County Sheriff Ronald Peterson said Jerry Frierson, 35, of Picayune, has not yet been found.

He left the farm on foot at about 3 p.m. last Friday.

Peterson said Frierson was serving a 90-day work sentence imposed by Judge John Chevis for a combination of misdemeanor offenses.

"He is not considered dangerous," the sheriff explained.

A charge of simple escape has been added to the original charges, he said.

Peterson said Pearl River County authorities were notified of Frierson's escape because it was believed he would try to return there. Later, his name and description were placed on the National Crime Information Computer, which is used by law enforcement agencies all over the country.

Weekly State Crop Report
Covering week of Oct. 17-23

Planting delayed for winter wheat

Dry soil has kept Mississippi farmers from planting winter wheat and oats, but a good, general rain across the state would end planting on time.

"Some of our fields are dust bowls due to the extended drought we have had this season," said Dr. Wayne Houston, an agronomist with the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

Hardest hit by the drought has been north Mississippi and the soil there. Farmers in this area usually begin planting winter wheat the first week in October and finish by early November.

Houston said that isolated rain in the northern part of the state allowed some farmers there to plant wheat. Without more rain, the soil will lose moisture again and germinating wheat seed will die.

"The time is running out a little bit for north Mississippi farmers to be able to plant," Houston said. "They still have a few days left in the optimal planting period. The rest of the state is in much better shape."

Winter wheat planting in central Mississippi begins the second week in October and runs through mid-November. Planting in the southern part of the state begins the first week in November and winds up in mid-December.

Soil moisture in central and south Mississippi is dry but as long as steady rain over 24 hours could replenish the soil moisture.

"It could give us what we need to get in the fields and finish on time," Houston said.

Some farmers wanted to plant oats but dry soil has kept many of them from doing so. Optimal planting time for oats ended Oct. 20.

Farmers planted about 250,000 acres of winter wheat in 1986. Winter wheat acreage is expected to be lower this year because of the drought. A few thousand acres of oats have been planted so far this year.

In other agricultural news, cotton harvesting is winding up across Mississippi.

"The crop is 95 percent harvested and the yields are extremely good," said Terry Rector, Warren County agent. "The grades are good, too."

Planning important for a safe Halloween

Saturday is Halloween and many children of the area will be out Trick-Or-Treating.

This is a fun time for youngsters and many of them may forget the 'rules of the road' while moving about town.

These are just a few of the many Halloween safety tips offered by law enforcement agencies:

—Parents are urged to have an adult supervise their children while Trick-Or-Treating.

—Travel only in familiar neighborhoods.

—Walk - don't run from house to house.

—Walk on sidewalks, not streets. If there are no sidewalks, walk on the left side of the street facing traffic.

—Do not enter strange homes or apartments.

—Stay away from parked cars.

The list goes on and on, but the most important safety tip for children is being accompanied by a responsible adult.

We hope all children Trick-Or-Treating will have a good and safe Halloween.

Cochran lauds Stennis' service to state, nation

Senator Thad Cochran said his retiring colleague, Senator John Stennis, has "earned national recognition and commendation and should be placed among those giants of Mississippi history who have served our state and this nation in the United States Senate."

His remarks came in a Senate floor address after Senator Stennis announced he would not seek re-election in 1988.

The following is the text of Senator Cochran's floor statement:

"Mr. President, my colleague and friend John Stennis has announced his intention not to seek re-election next year. As Senators know, John Stennis came to the Senate as a result of a special election in November 1947 and since that time has earned the affection and respect of the constituents back home in Mississippi and of his colleagues here in the Senate because of his diligence, his remarkable integrity, his intelligence and his sense of purpose as a Senator."

"He has been looked to many times by Senators to take the lead in times of crisis here in the Senate. He was the principal author of the first code of ethics for the Senate and served as chairman of the Ethics Committee.

"Back in the dark days of McCarthyism, he was the first Senator to really speak out to object to the way in which hearings that were being conducted then were being guided, the direction they were taking, and the tone of that entire experience. He has served very capably as chairman of the Armed Services Committee, as chairman of the Appropriations Committee, and as President pro tempore of the Senate."

"We have had a few Senators from our state of Mississippi, Mr. President, who have earned national recognition and commendation because of their leadership as national figures here in the Senate.

"Pat Harrison was one; John Sharp Williams was another; L. Q. C. Lamar also comes to mind.

"I think as we reflect on Senator Stennis' career, we have to all agree that John Stennis also should be placed among those giants of Mississippi history who have served our state and this nation in the U.S. Senate."

"We will certainly miss him, but our best wishes go with him. We know that we will continue to call on him for his advice and counsel in the months and years ahead."

News from Governor Bill Allain

Senator Stennis deserves thanks

Sen. John Stennis' surprise announcement that he will not run for re-election sent a shock wave through the state this week. While everyone is scurrying around, speculating on candidates to replace him, Mississippians should take the time to reflect on the career of this outstanding public servant.

Sen. Stennis has served Mississippi well. He will retire with the second-longest tenure of anyone who ever served in the U.S. Senate. He will retire having reached the highest position in the Senate—that of President Pro Tempore. He will retire as chairman of the most powerful committee in the Senate, the Appropriations Committee.

All these accomplishments are reflections on Mississippi. Through his service, he has brought positive attention to our state and our citizens.

Sen. Stennis has served for decades with the highest integrity and with respect from his colleagues. He is well known in Washington for his diligence, his fairness and his honesty. During his tenure as chairman of the Armed Services Committee, he earned a reputation as an expert on military affairs and he groomed many young senators who would follow him.

In the last fourteen months of his term, the Senator will be working to help our state land the Super Collider project, one of a series of projects that he has helped call to the attention of our state.

On many occasions, Sen. Stennis has pointed out programs that would help Mississippi and encouraged state leaders to attempt to land those programs or projects. Our success often directly related to his influence and involvement.

John Stennis has worked long and hard for this state. His presence in Washington will be missed, but we welcome him home.

Mississippi Economic Council

A group of young men and women from across Mississippi met in Jackson recently to begin a program that will help them help the state in the future.

The 1987-88 class of leadership Mississippi met in an orientation training session last week to begin a six-month leadership training program. All of the participants have been identified as potential leaders.

The leadership training program, sponsored by the Mississippi Economic Council, has trained more than 500 young leaders since its beginning in 1974. Counted among the graduates are state officials, business executives, and community leaders.

MEC Chairman Kenneth Milam told this year's class that the training they will receive over the course of the program will prepare them to contribute to the state's success in the future.

He said Mississippi has a lot of things going in its favor these days, making it an important time to sharpen the leadership skills of its young business and professional men and women.

Leadership Mississippi class members are age 35 and under.

IN CONGRESS

By Cong. Trent Lott

I often think about late afternoon conversations with Congressman Bill Colmer in the early 1970's. Some of our more memorable conversations included discussion of the importance of the federal judiciary and particularly, the Supreme Court. He felt very strongly, as I do today, that the Supreme Court was "out of control" and needed to be changed. The only way to accomplish this is by Presidential appointment.

During the past 40 years, the Supreme Court has handed down a long string of decisions, expanding its role into various areas; local law enforcement, school discipline, and religion. This is bad. Let me give you some examples.

The Miranda decision requires a suspect to be advised of his rights "to remain silent and to have an attorney present." While I agree that all suspects, not yet convicted of a crime, should be treated fairly, I believe the Miranda decision is being abused, by attorneys and by criminals. Career lawbreakers, in some cases, murderers, are walking our streets today because someone forgot to "dot an i or cross a t." I am afraid, the scale of justice has tilted in favor of the bad guys.

In 1975, in Mesa, Arkansas, two tenth-grade girls poured beer into the punch bowl at a parent-teacher meeting. The students were expelled for three months. The Supreme court later ruled that school officials could be held personally liable for taking such action.

Over the last two decades, our court system has handed down some unbelievable decisions regarding religion. Judges have told students they cannot sit together at lunch and read the Bible. With the federal judiciary as their guide, school authorities told a handicapped girl in El Paso, Texas, that she could not use her rosary on a school bus. And of course we cannot forget the 1962-63 rulings on prayer in schools. Something is wrong here!

Some of these disgraceful decisions have been modified by recent rulings and for that we must thank President Reagan. His appointments are making a difference but if we are to balance the scales again, more decisions will have to be reviewed, and in some cases, reversed.

But it didn't take us long, for it happened very soon, that we began to feel like the astronauts when they were riding on the Moon.

Bouncing from crater to crater, though we dare not drive too fast, and getting a new set of shocks and springs each time we fill up with gas.

It has really made us start wondering each time we rub our sore tails, why there hasn't been any money spent on paving these wagon trails.

But have no fear for we're taking our money and putting it in the bank, and hopefully in 10 or 12 years we'll have enough to buy a tank!

The annual Bay St. Louis Rotary Club's fund-raising dinner will be held tonight at Christ Episcopal's Virginia Hall, 5:30 to 8 p.m.

Proceeds from the event are used by the Rotary Club for community projects.

Tickets are available from Rotary members or at the door for a donation of $5 each.

David Treitel Jr., club president, said he hopes there will be a large turnout for the annual event.

Members of the Rotary Club have been preparing for the dinner for the past several months and are going to have a good one, according to Jay Fleuriel, dinner chairman.

We hope to be there working with other Rotary members and maybe taking a few photos.

The Hancock County high school football championship could be on the line Friday night when the Hawks host the Tigers.

Both Hancock North Central and Bay High have very good records this season with only one loss each.

Hancock stumbled last week to George County and Bay High has been sailing along since an opening defeat by a strong Stone County eleven.

It will be homecoming for the St. Stanislaus Rockachaws on Friday when they host the Pirates of Pass Christian.

Stanislaus was in high gear last week in defeating East Central and will be trying to keep Pass Christian winless for the season.

The games in Bay St. Louis and North Hancock County should draw the most fans of the season for the respective stadiums.

All local teams need good fan support and it is hoped Hancock North Central and St. Stanislaus stadiums are overflowing tomorrow night.

All local teams need good fan support.

Next week in the final regular season games, the Hawks face a very strong d'Iberville at home and Bay High will host cross city rivals St. Stanislaus.

See you at the game.

The retirement announcement by the Honorable U.S. Senator John C. Stennis last week sure has a lot of folks thinking about seeking his seat in next year's election.

It will be interesting to see how many will announce for the senior senator's spot.

Only time will tell how many will try to fill the shoes of Mississippi's best senator ever.

I received a telephone call on Wednesday morning from JoAnn Lagasse, RSVP director, telling me about the big Fall Fest scheduled for Monday, Nov. 2.

The Retired Senior Volunteer Program event will be from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the yard next to the RSVP building adjacent to the Bay Fire Department, Booker Street and Old Spanish Trail.

There will also be a White Elephant Sale and seniors will be selling some of their craft items they make.

A special barbecued chicken dinner will be offered for a donation of $3.50 each and we are looking forward to a good dinner on Monday.

Entertainment will be provided by The Friendly Band and everyone should have a good time.

Our RSVP organization, a United Way Agency, is very active in Hancock County and provides many services to our community.

We are hoping the Fall Fest will be a big success.

Triton's Chamber of Horrors is scheduled to open from 6:30 p.m. tonight, Friday and Halloween.

The Chamber of Horrors will be at Triton's den, 306 Collier Avenue in Waveland.

As most of you know, Triton parades down US-90 on Mardi Gras Day offering excitement to everyone.

A member of Triton told us how the Chamber of Horrors has been improved for this year and the organization charges a small fee for visitors. Proceeds from the Chamber of Horrors are used by Triton to help in bringing the parade.

Even though it was a small amount, the rain on Monday was very much needed.

During this time of the year wildfires can cause havoc because of the amount of dead leaves and pine needles on the ground.

Unless there is more rain within a few days, everyone should be extremely careful with burning or not burn at all.

It doesn't take much for a fire to get out of control especially when there is a stiff breeze blowing.

The roofs of many homes now have a collection of dead leaves and pine needles, and all it would take is a spark to catch a house on fire during a dry spell.

Remember, some areas require burning permits, and there are times when permits are not issued.

Trick-or-treating—a shared responsibility

What do ghosts and trick-or-treaters have in common? If you are out driving on Halloween night, the answer is obvious. Both are often difficult to see until you have a frightening experience. AAA Mississippi offers some common-sense safety tips to help you and your children enjoy a safe and happy Halloween night.

George Scheffel, manager of traffic safety, cautions that costumes should be light in color and fit correctly. Use retroreflective tape to outline and decorate costume for greater visibility. Children can use their imaginations while creating a safe costume. Retroreflective tape is inexpensive and available at local variety and hardware stores.

Flashlights and light sticks are a must if youngsters will be out at night, they increase visibility to motorists as well as lighting a pathway. A plastic pumpkin with a flashlight inside for "spooky" lighting is fun to carry and also allows youngsters to be seen.

Scheffel suggested that children be encouraged to use makeup rather than face masks. "If a mask cannot be avoided, enlarge the eye holes so that a child can see in all directions," Scheffel stated. Assorted non-toxic makeup kits are sold in stores and are designed to make a child's face a masterpiece of gore or humor without covering the eyes.

Halloween can be fun for older siblings and parents as well, if you accompany smaller children on their planned trick-or-treat trip. One restriction that should be discussed before leaving home is to limit doorbell ringing only to those homes known by the family. Even in familiar neighborhoods, stop only at houses with well-lit porches or doorways. Children of all ages should be instructed not to enter any residence unless the accompanying adult approves.

Carrying two trick-or-treat bags in different colors is a clever ploy seen on "The Cosby Show", and it works! One colored bag can be for those treats from known families, and the other color can be for treats from unknown houses, it goes without saying that all treats should be checked and sorted before eating.

The AAA Mississippi offered several safe driving tips for motorists. Limit driving speed to 15 miles per hour in residential neighborhoods between the hours of 5 and 9 p.m. Watch for children darting out from between parked cars, and use extra caution when pulling in or out of driveways. Use headlights as soon as it's dusk.

Come to a complete stop when making a right turn on red, after determining that there are no costumed creatures in the crosswalk who might be unaware of your presence. "Remember that a youngster's thoughts are on fun, not pedestrian safety," cautioned Scheffel.

Halloween can be an enjoyable and safe holiday for everyone. However, it requires shared responsibility on the part of both motorists and pedestrians. Drive and walk with extra caution on "spooks" night out."

campus; installation of hand washing equipment in all cafeterias; implementation of an adopt-a-student plan to reduce drop-out rates; collaborative efforts of the various schools' parent-teacher organizations; implementation of a sex education program; and including two school days for parent-teacher conferences.

During November, some of the public-information-oriented parts of this plan will be implemented, Oge said. These include publication of agendas and abbreviated versions of board minutes, a monthly school newsletter and a quarterly district-wide newsletter.

In addition, the district is almost finished compiling a collection of information materials for new or potential residents of the district and plans to add a special telephone number that will provide a caller with a recorded listing of school activities and events.

In addition, several round-table discussion groups have been approved by the board and are in the process of being implemented, including two groups of students, one from Bay Senior High and one from Bay Junior High, who will meet monthly with Oge to discuss ways of making schools more productive with less repression.

Most of the items under the category of Quality Education have a 1987-88 school year target date.

These items include improving basic skill, literacy and American College Test scores; monitoring and reducing drop-out rates; monitoring vocational school graduates to determine the success of vocational programs; and increasing the amount of scholarship funding used by local students and the number of students who go on to college.

With the exception of complete adoption of a school district policy manual required under Education Reform Act mandates, most of the items listed under Active Educational Leadership have already been accomplished, the superintendent said.

CRAFT SHOW

KEESLER AIR FORCE BASE—The base arts and crafts center is now accepting applications from exhibitors for Keesler's 4th Annual Christmas Craft Show. Exhibitors may call Ginny Cooley at 377-3078 or 377-2821 for more information.

The event is scheduled for Nov. 14 at the arts and crafts center at the east end of G Street.

Systems definition efforts will focus on vehicle configuration details including the cargo element's length and diameter, the number of liquid-fueled main engines as well as an operations concept evaluation including ground and flight support systems.

Phase II, a price option, if exercised, will focus on refinement of the selected configuration and operations concept with the generation of preliminary designs and systems definition.

A major purpose of the study is to determine whether Shuttle-C would be cost effective in supporting the Space Station. Use of the Shuttle-C could free the Space Shuttle for STS-unique missions such as solar system exploration, astronomy, life sciences, Space Station crew rotation, and logistics and materials processing experiments.

Shuttle-C also would be used to launch planetary missions and serve as an uncrewed test bed for new Shuttle boosters.

The results of the Shuttle-C efforts will be coordinated with the other ongoing advanced launch system studies to enable the joint steering group, comprised of Department of Defense and NASA senior managers, to formulate a national heavy lift vehicle strategy that best accommodates both near-term requirements and longer-term objectives for reducing space transportation operational costs.

NASA's Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala., has management responsibility for the Shuttle-C study effort.

The new vehicle, named the Shuttle-C for cargo, would have a lift capability of 100,000 to 150,000 pounds to low-Earth orbit, giving the U.S. space program a launch vehicle with two to three times the payload capability of the present Space Shuttle.

A funny and tender adult comedy, "Key Exchange" explores the romantic pitfalls facing New York's "swinging singles" as they deal with the dilemma of entangling commitment versus unencumbered freedom.

Chuck White, Center Stage artistic director, is directing the production, which features Ronya Harris, Bill Linscomb, and Michael O'Neill in the three-person cast.

Reservations are required for all performances and can be made by calling the box office at 896-6455. The box office is open from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. daily. Messages are taken 24 hours a day.

"Key Exchange" is funded in part by a grant from the Mississippi Arts Commission and the National Endowment for the Arts.

TO THE VOTERS OF DISTRICT 5

- *Work harmoniously with the Unit System (it will work)
- *Unselfish leadership to coordinate the activities of county, civic, and state organizations for the betterment of Hancock County
- *Follow through with telephone exchange system to make 466 and 467 exchanges the same as the 255 exchange.

Thomas P. (Tom) Clarke Is The Only Qualified Law-Trained Candidate For Justice Court Judge-East, Hancock County.

QUALIFICATIONS:
Licensed to practice law in all Missouri Courts, Federal District Courts, Federal Courts of Appeal, and the United States Supreme Court. After 41 years of general practice he is presently in semi-retirement.

For 13 years before retirement he served as Managing Attorney of Legal Services of Eastern Missouri. In this position he supervised senior law students of St. Louis University Law School and Washington University Law School in preparation and presentation of cases before State and Federal Courts.

ORGANIZATIONS:
Clarke, a native of Bay St. Louis, is a member of the Mound City, Missouri and National Bar Associations; National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Omega Psi Phi Fraternity and Knights of Columbus. He is a member of St. Rose De Lima Catholic Church.

EDUCATION:
He attended St. Rose De Lima, Bay St. Louis, and Xavier Prep in New Orleans. He earned his B.A. from Xavier University in Louisiana. He received his law degree from Lincoln University Law School in Missouri.

Would you even the best seamstress to be your family surgeon? Would you ask a master plumber to be the principal of our high school? Should we then ask anyone but a qualified person to be a judge for our county?

The training of a lawyer is the result of 19 years of formal education before taking the Bar Examination, and still some fail the examination.

Every judge should be trained in legal matters. He should be professional. Citizens required to appear before a court of law deserve no less. The court system of the county deserves the best legal minds available to render an immediate just and fair judgement. It is less expensive for the individual and the county than an appeal process due to ignorance of the law of legal process.

I have been involved with cases all over the country helping other people. I am now back home and want to serve the people of Hancock County. Do you want me? Are you ready...I am.

Preconstruction conference set on McLeod Park erosion work

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors will meet Thursday with officials of the USDA Soil Conservation Service for a pre-construction conference on an erosion correction project at McLeod Water Park.

The board received word Tuesday that Danny Nelson, the project engineer, and Sandra Smiley, a representative of the Soil Conservation Service's Jackson office, had scheduled the conference for 10 a.m. Thursday.

"This is a much needed project," said Beat Four Supervisor Sam Pernicaro, the acting board president. "We've been trying to get this done for eight years."

"The county will be ready to assist in any way we can," he added.

Pernicaro said the erosion on the banks of the Jourdan River, which runs through the county-owned park, is so bad that several large trees have been lost.

"We originally left them there because we thought they'd help keep some of the soil from washing out," he explained.

Pernicaro added that about a year ago, a fence was put up along some sections of the bluff the erosion has created.

"We were worried about the possible danger," he said.

About a week ago, the board was notified of approval of a U.S. Army Corps of Engineers permit for the work, which could not begin until approval was obtained.

According to the permit, the project calls for stabilization of 1,445 linear feet of the river bank through the placement of a two-foot layer of riprap over a layer of geotextile material designed to stabilize the soil.

The $170,000 project is a cooperative effort of the Soil Conservation Service and the Hancock County Soil Conservation District, the county and Pearl River Basin Development District.

The county must put up 20 percent of the cost and the Pearl River Basin Development District is supplying $34,000.

The regular board of supervisors meeting will be at 9 a.m. Thursday in the upstairs boardroom of the Hancock County Courthouse. Pernicaro said tentative plans call for the board to move the latter part of the meeting to the park itself for the conference.

Favre was recognized for her "superior secretarial skills, her loyalty to extension, professionalism and dedication."

"Mrs. Favre is known for working after hours, on nights and weekends, and providing services beyond the call of duty," Jackson added.

The award was presented Tuesday in ceremonies at the Mississippi State University campus by Dr. Rodney Foil, vice-president for the division of agriculture, forestry and veterinary medicine; and Dr. James R. Carpenter, director of the Mississippi Cooperative Extension Service.

"In my opinion she was the one in the state that most deserved this award and mainly because she just flat earned it," Taylor said.

"Mrs. Favre is the most loyal employee I have ever known and has always been a secretary that I can count on to do whatever possible to help," he added.

"She does many things around the office that are really a great help and doesn't even realize what a great service she is doing," Taylor said.

NAACP Education Committee to protest student expulsion

BY DENA BISNETTE

The Hancock County Branch of National Association for Advancement of Colored People Education Committee will meet at 2:30 p.m. Thursday with the Bay School Board to discuss a student discipline matter.

According to Committee Chairperson Geraldine Lang, the committee disagrees with a year-long expulsion of a student and plans to discuss possible reinstatement of that student with the board.

"We feel the punishment of expulsion for an entire year is too harsh in this particular situation, especially since it involves a minor child, and we feel at this point that most of the evidence on which the expulsion is based is hearsay," she stated.

She said the committee had met

Did you know there was once a major football game in which the score—and even the winner—were changed 48 hours after the game was over. It happened in 1940. Cornell beat Dartmouth 7-3. But on the Monday after that Saturday game, officials of both schools looked at movies of the game and realized Cornell had scored its touchdown on an illegal down. Even though Cornell had an unbeaten season going, they said they'd give up the touchdown, and thereby give up the victory. The result was declared reversed and it was officially changed in the record books from Cornell 7, Dartmouth 3 to Dartmouth 3, Cornell 0.

Here's quite an oddity. The man considered by many to be the greatest football player of all-time, Jim Thorpe, never played football and never even saw a football game until he was 17 years old!

Here's an amazing football record. Quarterback Bart Starr once threw an incredible total of 294 passes in a row in National Football League games without having any intercepted. That stands as the all-time NFL record for most consecutive passes without any interceptions—and no one else has ever come close to that record.

JAMES "JIM" THORNTON

SUPERVISOR
DISTRICT ONE

Qualified By Experience

My background shows my leadership qualities; qualities that a supervisor must possess in order to unite the county and move forward in a positive manner. During my past 10 years as a construction supervisor I was constantly involved with multi-million dollar budgets, schedules and overall top management, just like a county supervisor. The company that I worked for had faith in my judgements and decisions. It was MY wise spending, productive scheduling, well-thought-out decisions and overall management that allowed each and every job that I was involved with to be completed on time or ahead of schedule and with a margin of profit. To name just a few: Murphy Oil Refinery, Meraux, La. $1.1 million; Alabo Street Wharf, N.O., La. $10.1 million; Peacock Towers Rest Home for the Elderly, six floors $5.6 million; 23-floor Holiday Inn Crown Plaza Hotel, N.O., La. $19.3 million; The Mississippi Areal River Transit (M.A.R.T.) Terminals in the World Fair, $5.0 million; Jax Brewhouse Phase 11A, N.O., La. $6.4 million. By using my EDUCATION AND PRACTICAL WORK EXPERIENCE, I have the ability to speak intellectually on behalf of DISTRICT ONE RESIDENTS, with architects and engineers in their own language. I can interpret contracts and read blue print drawings to insure that we, the taxpayers, have our interests protected.

As your Supervisor, I will work on our ongoing drainage correction plan and immediately begin a program to hard surface (black top) roads throughout District One to include BAYSIDE PARK, HERRON BAY ESTATES, SPRINGWOOD, etc... Not so many years ago Lower Bay Road was a dirt road and a constant drain on the Road and Bridge Fund. I believe that capital improvements are far superior to maintaining decade-old problems. Who knows how much money has been saved since these roads were blacktopped. Of primary concern is the blacktopping of all school bus routes and all hurricane evacuation routes.

Of equal concern are the volunteer firemen and their departments. I know these people personally and have attended their meetings and have seen their problems first hand. These brave individuals will have my total support.

I've also studied the Master Plan for the Beach and spoke to several of the committee members assuring them of my fullest cooperation.

"WHEN DID YOUR LAST DECISION REALLY MATTER?" Come out to vote November 3 for JIMMY THORNTON, a man who cares about DISTRICT ONE.

I am concerned about the unemployment rate in Hancock County and will work with NSTL and industries in promoting local employment.

Protecting children's teeth at Halloween

How can I protect my children's teeth and the teeth of trick-or-treaters who come to my house at Halloween?

Hidden beneath the fangs of Halloween vampires and monsters are the real teeth of children that may encounter more sugar in one night than at any other time of the year.

Fortunately, however, many 'treats' are available as alternatives to 'sweets.'

One way to protect the teeth of trick-or-treaters who ring your doorbell is not to give them food at all. Treat them with balloons, stickers, small toys or party favors. You might also hold out a bowl of small change to children over the age of three. Toddlers shouldn't be offered coins because they might swallow them.

Unfortunately, the best types of treats for the teeth, such as fresh fruit or certain home-baked goods, are the ones that many parents warn their children not to accept for safety and hygiene protection.

Prepackaged items offer parents the assurance that no one has tampered with their children's "treats."

Pediatric dentists recommend that those who decide to offer prepackaged foods should select items that aren't sweet or sticky, such as chips, plain cookies, crackers, or crackers with peanut butter or cheese. Peanuts may be given to children older than three. Prepackaged boxes of fruit juice make a refreshing treat that many children enjoy.

Avoid offering chewy candy, such as toffee or caramel, that sticks to the teeth; hard candy that dissolves slowly and stays in the mouth longer; preserved fruits, such as raisins; and granola bars. Surprisingly, a plain chocolate bar may be the least harmful type of candy.

Most pediatric dentists agree that sweets don't need to be unilaterally forbidden in children's diet, and, as long as they brush their teeth thoroughly afterwards, there's no harm in the children eating candy on special occasions such as Halloween.

How often children eat sweets is more important than the total amount of sugar they consume.

This year, when your children return home with their Halloween bounty, let them empty it on the kitchen table and select several treats. Allow them to eat as many items as you want—as long as they brush their teeth when they are finished. It's much worse to let them eat small portions of candy all day long.

If your children don't eat all of their candy on Halloween, don't give them ready access to it. Continue to monitor what they eat and when they eat it, and make sure they brush their teeth each time. If the children want to pack Halloween candy in their lunches and brushing after the meal isn't possible, pack apples, too. Ask your children to eat the apples after the candy. While this isn't as beneficial as brushing, the apples will clean some of the sugar from their teeth.

The best way to protect your children's teeth on Halloween is to encourage dental health all year long. Foods which contain large amounts of sugar shouldn't be available in your home.

Many parents of young children believe falsely that they don't have to protect baby teeth since they will be replaced anyway. However, the health of the primary teeth will affect the health of the permanent teeth. Even before the baby teeth break through the gums, parents should begin routine dental care by gently cleaning inside the mouth with a soft, damp cloth. Parents can begin brushing their children's teeth when they're between the ages of 12 and 18 months-old every evening with a soft brush. Children should be allowed to brush their own teeth, but parents should try to help as well, until the children are old enough to tie their shoes.

Thriffiley scores in Majors' victory over Lambuth

Millsaps College Majors with five wins and two losses on the season Saturday will face Washington University Bears who bring a 1-6 record into the fray.

The game is slated for Saturday afternoon at Alumni Field on the campus of Millsaps College in Jackson. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

Millsaps leads the series 7-0, including a 31-17 victory last year in St. Louis.

The Majors enjoyed an open date last weekend after defeating the Lambuth College Eagles on Oct. 17 by the score of 49-7.

Millsaps played its best game of the year and jumped out to an early 35-0 lead at the half.

Quarterback Rusty Davis had an excellent game, completing nine of 15 passes for 128 yards and three touchdowns.

On the receiving end of those passes were SE Darrin Estes (7 catches, 129 yards, 1 TD); TE Steve Leyee (2 catches, 28 yards, 1 TD); and TB Todd Thriffiley (1 catch, 5 yards, 1 touchdown).

Estes also ran for a second quarter touchdown and had a third quarter TD reception from backup QB Jody Carracioli (5-41, 54 yards, 1 TD).

Leading the running attack for Millsaps were tailbacks Todd Thriffiley and Scott Christian. Thriffiley, a sophomore, rushed 11 times for 90 yards, while Christian, a senior, rushed 8 times for 35 yards and 1 touchdown.

The Majors accumulated 332 yards of total offense, 150 yards on the ground and 182 through the air.

The Major defense held Lambuth to only 75 yards of total offense, holding the Eagles' running attack to 31 yards on 40 carries.

Leading the defense were linebackers Clay Ranager (6 tackles, 5 assists, 2 interceptions), defensive tackle Scott Green (8 tackles, 2 assists, 2 sacks), and linebacker Tommy Ponder (7 tackles, 3 assists, 1 blocked punt).

Defensive end Chuck Clayton recovered Ponder's blocked punt in the end zone for a touchdown.

Players to watch include SE/P Darrin Estes, 24 catches, 420 yards, 6 TD's; FB Jerry Leonard, 69 rushes, 369 yards, 5 TD's; LB Tommy Ponder, 51 tackles, 28 assists, 2 sacks; LB Clay Ranager, 50 tackles, 34 assists, 2 interceptions; and DT Scott Green, 42 tackles, 23 assists, 8 sacks.

Trinity University is the lone common opponent. Millsaps defeated Trinity 33-10.

Judges name football Players of The Week

By EDGAR H. PEREZ

St. Stanislaus senior tailback Yasin Shabazz contributed 13 points to his team's 21-6 victory over East Central Friday night.

Shabazz scored two touchdowns and an extra point to be named by Loiacano's Health Club of Bay St. Louis and Ricky's Trophies of Waveland as 'Player of The Week' from Stanislaus.

From the Bay High Tigers—the only other area team to win last week—the program sponsors selected Andrew Collins, an outside linebacker.

Collins plays an important role on the Tiger defense, the judges noted, adding he carried the ball 19 times for 138 yards including a ten-yard run for a touchdown.

The Tigers blanked St. Martin 32-0.

Outstanding defensive play won the honors this week at Coast Episcopal High for senior outside linebacker Walter Rode.

He is credited with seven tackles, three of which stopped the opposition from scoring and forced the game into overtime.

The Raiders lost the homecoming contest 28-22.

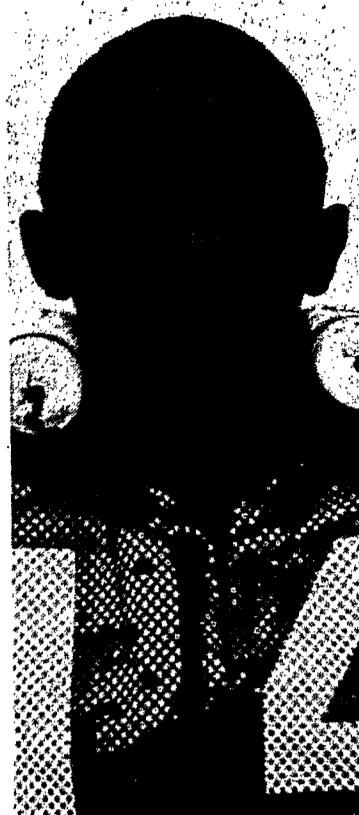

Tight end and line backer Cory Blaize of Hancock North Central is Player of The Week there after completing five solo tackles and seven assists.

In addition to his top ranking defensively among the Hawks against George County, Blaize received two passes for a total gain of 24 yards.

George County handed the Hawks their first defeat of the season, 26-34.

Pass Christian's Jason Peterson, took in four aerials for a total of 67 yards, scored one touchdown and a two-point conversion.

He is also credited with four tackles on defense as the Pirates tumbled to Vancleave, 42-8.

Wildcats' Burton, Fairconnetue may be out for the season

If the opportunity arises don't expect the Pearl River College Wildcats to take any prisoners this coming Saturday afternoon.

Not only is the 2:30 p.m. contest against Mississippi Delta being played before a homecoming crowd, but it's a chance for the Wildcats to assure themselves of at least a break-even season.

"We have a heck of a ball club," said Mike Nelson, the Cats' head coach, "even if we are 4-4 at this stage of the year."

Last week the Wildcats set several records by beating the Co-Lin Wolves 30-13. It was the first win over the Wolves since 1981.

For the first time in history three Wildcat runners gained over 100 yards in a single game.

Jerry Rush carried the ball 23 times for 189 yards. His single game performance is the third best ever for a Wildcat runner.

Roland Johnson picked up 107 yards while Tony Jurich netted 110 yards on the night.

Altogether the Wildcats amassed 438 yards on the ground. Until Saturday night the top rushing performance for a PRC team was when the 1953 Cats rushed for 425 yards against East Central.

"That was such a satisfying win for us," said Nelson. "It is the best overall performance we have had all year long. Our offense played well. Our defense played well."

One reason the Wildcats ran the ball as much as they did against the Wolves was that two wide-outs, Matt Fairconnetue and Arthur Dozier, were injured during the first quarter.

"Dozier has a knee injury and Fairconnetue twisted his ankle," said Nelson. "They both will probably miss the remainder of the year."

Defensive back Chris Bates was lost during the first half and may also miss this week's game.

Running back Thurman Geathers, who picked up 187 yards against Jones last year, and is in fourth place on the all-time list behind his replacement Rush, may be able to return to action this week.

Little Charles Burton, who has been a spark for the Cats at tailback, underwent knee surgery this past week and will miss the rest of the season.

"We have had a bunch of injuries," said Nelson. "But I really

Hawks, Tigers balanced for county-rival clash

By BRENDA HEATHCOCK

The Hancock North Central Hawks will host the Bay Senior High Tigers in a game between two teams sporting identical won-loss records for the season.

Each is credited with six wins and a single loss so far this season.

"It's going to be a hard fought game because of the county rivalry and because both of the teams are good teams," Hancock North Central Head Coach Irvin Favre said.

The Hawks first loss of the season came last week at the hands of the George County Rebels.

The Tigers have won the last six games. Their only loss was in the opening game to Stone County High School.

"We hope that our people will go into the game and not make a lot of mistakes early," Favre said.

"We know we are in for a good battle and I believe all eyes of Hancock County will be on this football game," he continued.

The Hawks have a few players with "some bruises and bangs" from last week and two or three of the team members may not be able to play this week.

Toby Dastague will be out for sure with broken wrist, Favre said.

Questionable players who may not be able to play because of injuries include Donald Doyle and Terrence Goff, he added.

"We know we have got to play really good football to beat them," Favre said.

The team has been working very hard this week in practice to get ready, he said.

Favre also commented on the improved football teams throughout Hancock County this year.

"I am real proud of the Hawks but also proud of the other teams in the county," Favre said.

This will be a real good game and anyone who wants a seat in the stands needs to come early, he added.

For the game against Stanislaus there was traffic backed up quite a way down the road and there were not nearly enough room in the stands for people to sit down, Favre said.

Kickoff will be at 7:30 p.m. in the Hawk stadium.

USM open house set Nov. 7

HATTIESBURG—The University of Southern Mississippi Alumni Association will hold an open house Saturday, Nov. 7, prior to a home football clash with Northeast Louisiana.

The information obtained will be used to develop management techniques that should improve fishing for this popular recreation lake.

The open house will be held at the Alumni House from 10 a.m. until noon, prior to the start of the 1 p.m. kickoff at M. M. Roberts Stadium.

The next open house will be Nov. 14 from 10 a.m. to noon at the Alumni House, preceding the USM/East Carolina game.

Tigers expect Bay-Hancock rivalry to be season's most physical

BY DENA BISSETTE

The Bay Senior High School Tigers will travel to Hancock North Central Friday for an annual cross county rivalry expected to be one of the Tigers' toughest games this season.

Tiger Head Coach Cleveland Williams said the game will be "one of the most physical clashes this season."

He said he feels the two teams are evenly matched, with skilled players on both the Tigers and the Hawks.

"We know that Hancock North Central will be riding high when the Tigers take the field, and it's going to be a big game," Williams added.

"It's always good to have two teams in the same county with good records, as these two have presented."

Bay High already has a definite place in district play-offs and Hancock is still a contender. Both teams' won-loss records are six and one, with Hancock undefeated until falling to George County last week and Bay High having lost only in the season opener at Stone County.

Williams praised his counterpart at Hancock North Central, stating, "Coach (Irvin) Favre and his staff have done an outstanding job with his team thus far."

"In a game which is a big rivalry like this, your motivation is already there because of the clashes you have had in the past."

"I respect the Hawks' ability to run and throw the ball. Their balanced attack has brought them a long way this season," Williams said.

"Vincent Cuevas, Donald Vinice and Terrence Goff are three who are good and could make a lot of things happen for them offensively."

"The Tigers are not loaded with a lot of skilled individuals, but what we do have is young men who bind together when the chips are down and play good team ball."

Williams, who believes strongly in the effectiveness of a balanced offensive attack, said the Tiger offense has improved each week and has been able to establish such an attack against Bay High's opponents.

In addition, the coach feels his team will have to turn in a better performance than the one that netted Bay High a 32-0 victory against St. Martin last week.

"We have been working hard to find a way in which we could attack their defense, because they are so aggressive with their linebackers and secondary coverage," said Williams.

"On the other hand, we're not handicapped like we've been in past years," he added.

"Chad LaFontaine is doing an extremely good job for us at the field general slot, but his success comes from applied team effort."

"We also have individuals who can catch the ball, run our air attack with receivers Douglas Rhodes, Dante' Curry, Rickey Whavers, Darren Washington, Monty Strong, Destin Brady and Andrew Collins, who make our corps solid."

Williams said.

"We have hit a snag in our running game, but it hasn't hurt us to the extent that we can't move the ball."

"We have shown that we can bind together and get action back in our backfield with a sound attack against our opponents."

Williams said some offensive and defensive changes have been made to allow the Tigers to present a stronger attack against the Hawks.

Probable starters on offense Friday include Travis Haynes, center; Jerry Island and Doral Nichols, guards; Heath Hongood and Lance Bell, tackles; Washington, tight end; Curry, split end; Andrew Collins, fullback; Aaron Whavers, running back; Rhodes, wingback; and LaFontaine, quarterback.

Probable defensive starters include Bell and Washington, ends; Amadae Collins and Island, tackles; Strong, Aaron Whavers, Andrew Collins and Ed Elliott, linebackers; Curry and Rhodes, cornerbacks; and Rickey Whavers, free safety.

The game begins at 7:30 p.m. at Hancock North Central stadium.

Gautier man wins $1,000 in fish tourney

Hollie Carlisle, Gautier, not only won the Jackson County Shrine Club Annual Open Bass tournament, Oct. 3, but he netted an additional $1,000 from Yamaha Outboards for his win.

Carlisle and his partner, Dennis Benezue, out-fished 198 other anglers to win the tournament held at Indian Point Resort on the Pascagoula River. Jackson County Shrine Club sponsored the event.

Carlisle won the additional $1,000 because he is a Yamaha outboard owner. Yamaha's 1987 Tournament

Bonus Program awards the bonus to owners who win approved tournaments while using their outboards.

For 1987, anglers can win up to $2,000 in the bonus program.

An owner's third win will grant membership into the "Elite Anglers Division," and subsequent wins add extra opportunities to win. After the program closes in November, a name will be drawn from the "Elite Anglers" and the winner awarded a new one-ton Toyota truck.

A "Hole-in-One" contest will be sponsored by Bert Allen Toyota and other special contest prizes will include a weekend for two at the Pritania Park Hotel in New Orleans, gold plated putters, dinners from local restaurants and gift certificates from area businesses.

The entry fee is $75 per person and includes cart and green fees, special contest, refreshments on the course and a bar-b-que awards dinner immediately following the tournament.

Tournament sponsors include Allen Beverage, Inc., Bert Allen Toyota, F.E.B. Distributing Company and Lil' Buddy's Bar-B-Que. Golf Committee members are Drew Allen, Guy Billups, Jr., Frank E. Bertuccci, Hollis Carr, Bill Smallwood and Terri Kleinsasser, golf pro at Windance.

Bassin' with the Pros

by Trey Foerster

Up North there are several questions boaters have about winter storage of their motors. Even in the South, some nights can get pretty cold—as frost damage to orange crops can easily testify to!

Here are some tips from two bass pros and the experts at Outboard Marine Corporation (OMC) on how to prevent damage to your investment.

"One thing that can create a problem, and I've had trouble with, is to make sure all the water is drained out of the lower unit and other parts of the motor," cautions David Wharton, Johnson Pro Staff member.

Drain the geargrease in the lower unit and refill it with the manufacturer's recommended lubricant, the experts at OMC tell us. Geargrease tube is available in a variety of containers, from small tubes to gallons.

If the lubricant looks like it's been leaking, have a service expert check it out. In fact, Evinrude and Johnson dealers often have fall/winter specials for servicing your motor.

"You should make sure your gas tank is full to prevent condensation in the tank," suggests Wharton. "In fact, you should fill your tank and add OMC's 2 plus 4 Fuel Conditioner before storage here in the South."

Check the boat's battery. Make sure it's filled with water and fully charged. Clean the terminal posts and connectors so they are free of corrosion.

If you have an outboard with an oil injection system, check to make sure the oil tank is filled. Also check your owner's manual for any special maintenance the oil injection system might require.

According to Guido Hibdon, also a member of the Johnson Pro Staff,

A LOT OF FACES

HATTIESBURG—USM's Golden Eagles have spread the offense around this season with 13 different runners and 13 different receivers having recorded stats along with 15 different players in the scoring column through seven games.

Shelton Gandy leads the rushers with 850 yards on 159 carries, Darryl Tillman leads the receivers with 13 catches for 271 yards and three touchdown (an average of 20.8 yards per catch), and Chris Seroka has stretched his lead in the scoring department with 33 points on 18 of 18 PAT's and five of nine field goals.

people in Missouri who put their motors up for the winter pull the plugs and add OMC's 2 plus 4 Fuel Conditioner to guard against rust. Make sure your spark plugs are clean and gapped to specification. Also make sure the spark plug terminal connections and wiring are clean, unfrayed and snug-fitting.

Check your propeller. If it is nicked, gouged or bent, take it to your dealer or prop shop for repair. If it's too far gone, put a new one on your Christmas list! Johnson and Evinrude owners might consider OMC's SST Raker stainless steel propellers, which offer greater durability than most aluminum props.

Here's a safety tip: Before removing your propeller, always shift your motor to neutral and remove the key from the ignition switch to prevent the motor from accidentally starting. If you have trouble loosening storage, and several times each boating season, dab a little anti-corrosion grease on the steering cable ram of remote controlled outboards. The grease will help the steering work smooth and easy and keep it from seizing up during storage, according to OMC.

Before replacing the propeller, lube the prop shaft with grease as specified in your owner's manual. Also check around the base of the prop shaft for monofilament fishing line which may have become wrapped around the shaft. Be sure to check your owner's manual for any special instructions before installing the propeller.

Father Stanislaus Buteux, a French priest, erected the shrine in honor of the Blessed Virgin whom he invoked for protection during a violent storm in which he was aboard a leaking vessel without a mast or sail. Although the woods which originally surrounded the Shrine have disappeared in the 130 years, the plaster of paris statue from France has withstood hurricanes and storms in Bay Saint Louis since 1858. "What are some tips for coping with a jealous boyfriend?"

The question could just have easily been asked about a jealous girlfriend. Guys don't have a corner on the jealousy market.

It's important to recognize why a person is jealous. Perhaps your boyfriend feels insecure or undeserving of your attention or caring. He may not feel attractive or personable enough to keep your attention.

Have you given him reason to believe you are not committed to the relationship? Do you flirt with other guys in his presence?

Is the relationship worth working on? If it is, you may want to be conscious of complementing your boyfriend for his strengths. Give him your attention when you're with him. Be consistent in your behavior toward him. Treat him the way you want to be treated.

On the other hand, if you would really prefer to date other guys, quit stringing this guy along. You have a right to date whom you please. He has a right to know how you feel.

"How do you get over a broken heart?" Could this have been written by the jealous boyfriend above?"

As the old song lyrics said, "Time will heal a broken heart." However, there are some things you can do to help time do its job. Get involved in an activity or activities you enjoy. Remember that happiness or unhappiness is generated in your own mind and emotion. Think positively. You had the ability to attract a sweetheart before. No doubt you can again. Be interested in other people and their needs. Forget the "Oh, pitiful me" routine. About all it will get you is a kleenex tossed your way.

USM to operate national center at NSTL

HATTIESBURG—State, federal and industrial officials are combining resources to provide a link between U.S. industry and the computer-aided manufacturing revolution, including robotics.

Industrial access to what is considered one of the largest computer libraries in the world may be available as early as February with the planned establishment of the Automation and Robotics Application Center at the National Space Technologies Laboratory on the Mississippi Gulf Coast.

NASA's designation of the University of Southern Mississippi as operator of the Bay St. Louis center was announced on the USM campus Monday during a joint news conference by representatives of the state and federal agencies involved.

"The computer revolution is now influencing manufacturing processes and most industry observers believe that computerized manufacturing automation will help U.S. manufacturers become more productive and internationally competitive," said Dr. G. David Huffman, dean of the USM College of Science and Technology and a co-director of the project.

Dr. Howard Heiden, assistant dean of the USM college and the other co-director, predicted, "When people in Mississippi have an idea for developing a new product or service, the center can assist them in getting started."

The center will be housed at NSTL's Mississippi Technology Transfer Building, subject to approval of the MTT governing board, and more than $240,000 in first-year operating funds will be provided by NASA, $99,944; the Mississippi Department of Energy and Transportation (MDET), $50,000; prospective industrial subscribers, $40,000; AT&T, $10,000; and USM, $44,626.

NASA also has agreed to provide $100,000 in annual operating funds for each of the subsequent four years. The estimated revenue over the five-year period—including NASA, state and client support—is $1.8 million.

John W. Green Jr., MDET executive director, said the planned new center would provide a "unique opportunity to speed the introduction of automated manufacturing technology" to such Mississippi industries as wood furniture manufacturing, as well as poultry, fish and seafood processors.

"The challenge is to incorporate the high technology of computer chips, fiber optics and robotics into this basic industry (wood furniture manufacturing)—thereby improving energy efficiency and productivity, and rendering the industry far more competitive," Green stated.

"This new manufacturing applications center is an important addition to the program of the Mississippi Technology Transfer Center," said

Haskel Patterson, a Hattiesburg automobile dealer and chairman of the Energy and Transportation Board. "The quality of products and services is increasingly important and manufacturers are more and more dependent on robotics and automation to deliver quality and lower cost at the same time."

The new center will use NASA's RECON database—one of the world's largest databases in robotics and computer-aided manufacturing. Since all NASA contracts are recorded in the database, the computer file can provide clients with an abundance of information concerning the establishment of a new service or product. In addition to the NASA database, the center will develop a unique automated manufacturing products database using AT&T 3B2 computers donated in part by AT&T (subject to Central Data Processing Authority approval).

"Incorporating high technology to improve the energy efficiency, productivity and competitiveness of Mississippi and national industry is one goal of the new center," said Huffman.

Officials noted development of robotics, now dominated by the Japanese, parallels and is dependent upon computer technology. They said computer-aided manufacturing encompasses robotics, numerically-controlled machine tools, flexible manufacturing systems and automated materials handling systems.

Grocery retailer joins fight against drugs

JACKSONVILLE, Fla.—Deciding to take a major role in the fight against drug abuse, Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc., in cooperation with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has produced a 14-minute VHS video tape entitled: "The Right Choice."

A Dano Davis, president of Winn-Dixie Stores, Inc. said the tape will be available to the public free of charge through all 1,273 stores in the Winn-Dixie chain.

The content of the tape realistically portrays today's peer pressure to experiment with illegal drugs placed on our nation's youth, especially children 9-12 years old.

It makes one important point: "Just Say No."

The tape reinforces the familiar national theme of the same name currently championed by first lady Nancy Reagan.

Winn-Dixie was responsible for producing the tape, and will make copies of the tape available to the public through all of its stores. Each store will have three copies available on a no-charge rental basis.

The tape also will be distributed free to school and library systems in every community where the retailer is located.

Winn-Dixie officials encourage the use of the tape, and duplication of it is permitted except for commercial purposes.

The chain estimates that nearly 7,000 tapes will be in use when the distribution program is in full swing.

regarding the permit board hearing. Michael Anthony, representing Jourdan residents, suggested the irrigation method as an acceptable long-range alternative for wastewater treatment for the two cities. He noted the City of Ocean Springs is planning to utilize the irrigation method to dispose its sewage plant effluent in the Mississippi Sand Hill Crane National Wildlife Refuge 10 miles away and construct the system with 80 percent matching federal funds. The cities of Houston, Chicago and Tallahassee are utilizing the irrigation method, Anthony added.

Michael Anthony, spokesman for a group of property owners on the Jourdan River, told the district that his group had met to study the 201 plan, dealing with the wastewater disposal system, and the 208 plan, which addresses management of the county-wide district.

"We still strenuously object to the proposed point of discharge and will continue to object to any discharge directly into a populated recreational water," Anthony said.

HALLOWEEN HELP!

From

Dermatologists on the Purpose Skin Care Advisory Board

As Halloween draws closer, and invitations to masquerade balls and costume parties pile up, wild and unique costume ideas will race through your mind. Whether you plan to dress up as Cleopatra, Matahari or Lizzie Borden, here are some skin- and hair-care tips that will come in handy when preparing your costume idea, and when applying and removing that heavy costume makeup:

HORRIFIC HAIR

If you plan to dye your hair for a distinct character effect—beware and be careful. Synthetic dyes may be easy and fun to use but they're not entirely trouble free.

Dyes react chemically with your hair; they also can react with skin protein and cause an allergic reaction.

Remember: your hair protects the skin of your scalp from injury. But when unprotected skin comes into contact with dye, results can be damaging.

If you're worried about getting an allergic reaction, run a patch test with a small amount of dye first. Or then again, you can always wear a wig.

MAKUP MYSTIQUE

Face powder, rouge, lipstick, mascara and eyeshadow. Many women wouldn't feel complete without these bare necessities. When preparing your costume, you'll need to exaggerate your facial features to emphasize your character.

This will require extra makeup and special skin care for one of the more sensitive areas of the body—your face. Here are a few skin care tips to follow when applying and removing your Halloween makeup:

* Before Makeup Application

Just as an artist needs a clean, fresh canvas before painting, you need a clean and fresh face before applying your makeup.

Regular proper cleansing is necessary to remove the topmost layer of old, dead skin cells and to reveal skin that looks brighter and feels fresher.

If dead cells are not removed frequently and regularly, your complexion will tend to take on a dull, drab appearance.

Proper cleansing also eliminates dirt, pollution, perspiration and stale oils, from either oil-based cosmetics or from your natural skin oil.

Even in today's age, washing with soap and water is still the best way to clean your face. But it's best to wash with a gentle soap that doesn't contain any harsh ingredients, deodorants or excessive perfumes.

Heavily perfumed soaps may smell great, but the stronger the fragrance, the greater the possibility of irritating your skin.

* Caking It On

The best rule of thumb is to choose a cosmetic with the simplest and fewest ingredients. The more complicated the formula, the greater your chances of having a reaction to one of the ingredients.

* Tick-Tock-Take-It-Off

It's 4 a.m., the party's over and all you want to do is take off your costume and crawl into bed. But don't forget to take off that heavy makeup first. One of the worst ways to irritate your skin is to sleep in your makeup.

So you look in the mirror and wonder how long it will take to scrub off all that makeup.

Stop! Don't even think about using a rough washcloth or harsh cleaner!

Your makeup may seem to come off faster with an abrasive sponge and strong detergent, but so do your not-ready-to-come-off skin cells.

Cleaning too rigorously can dry out or damage your skin, especially if you have sensitive skin or acne. A gentle soap will remove your caked-on makeup effectively without irritating your skin unnecessarily.

Afterwards, if the skin on your face tends to be dry, put a dry skin cream on the dry areas while your face is still slightly damp from washing. The cream will help seal in the moisture your skin needs to stay supple.

CHIC AND CREATIVE COSTUMES

So, you've decided to dress up as Nefertiti's mummy and your friend is going as Marilyn Monroe.

Well, although these are terrific costume ideas, keep in mind that you'll be dancing up a storm and may feel a bit confined in your tight costume.

It would be a good idea to make your costume out of loosely woven natural fibers, such as cotton, rather than out of synthetic materials.

Natural fibers allow perspiration to evaporate from your skin more readily. If oil glands become temporarily blocked beneath your hot and constricting costume, you may break out in a type of acne called acne mechanica.

Also, to prevent friction from irritating your skin, avoid rough fabrics and make sure your outfit allows enough room for free movement—you don't want to be "the stiff" of the party!

* TRICK OR TREATS?

Every Halloween you are offered the many forbidden treats of the holiday—candy corn, chocolate crunch bars and caramel apples. You may have been passing up on these sweets in fear of that last minute break-out of unsightly pimples.

You wonder if you will have to go as the Wicked Witch of the West instead of Cinderella.

You can promote healthy skin by following one simple rule: eat a well-balanced diet. Good nutrition is important for proper nourishment of your skin cells. And, of course, it leads to a trimmer body to drape that costume over.

Grandmaster to lecture, play at MSU chess events

Mississippi chess enthusiasts and others interested in the game will have a rare opportunity Nov. 14-15 when international grandmaster Arthur Bisguier participates in two major events at Mississippi State University.

On the 14th (Saturday), Bisguier will lecture, answer questions from the audience and play in a simultaneous exhibition against all comers at a noon program at Memorial Hall's Coskrey Auditorium. Later, he will participate in a three-round U.S. Chess Federation-rated tournament at the same location.

"The last time an international grandmaster gave an exhibition in Mississippi was 1978, so this is a rare event indeed," said George Chressanthis of Starkville.

Chressanthis is coordinating the event with assistance from the MSU Union Program Council and the Interfraternity and Panhellenic councils.

Attendance to the afternoon lecture and exhibition is free to all non-players. For those interested in challenging Bisguier, there will be a board fee of $5 for MSU students (with valid identification); $10 for all others. Registration will begin promptly at 11:30 a.m.

The three-round Swiss system tournament will take place at 6 p.m. on the 14th and at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m. on the 15th (Sunday). Participants must be members of the Mississippi Chess Federation and the national federation. Class prizes will be awarded. A $12 tournament fee will be charged and registration will begin at 5:30 p.m. on the 14th. Advanced entries will be accepted.

At both the exhibition and tournament, players must provide their own chess sets and boards. Regulation-size and-style sets are recommended.

Bisguier, of Rock Hill, N.Y., was awarded the international master title in 1952 and the international grandmaster title—the highest of all—in 1957, when the title was rare. He has participated in two Interzonals, five Olympiads and innumerable international tournaments, as well as two team matches against the Soviet Union and one against Yugoslavia.

Still among the top 50 players in this country, he is grandmaster-on-staff for the U.S. Chess Federation and technical adviser to Chess Life magazine. He is also a regular contributor to the Christian Science Monitor's chess column.

To register in advance for the tournament, write to Peyton Crowder at Box 3214, Mississippi State, MS. 39762. Crowder's telephone number is 323-3124 or, at MSU, 325-7731.

Additional information on both events can be obtained by writing to Chressanthis at 115 Kirkside Drive, Starkville, MS. 39759, or by telephoning him at either 323-9206 or, at MSU, 325-2561.

Higher Education Week underway

JACKSON—Higher Education Week in Mississippi kicks off Sunday, Oct. 25, coinciding with a national observance featuring the theme, "We the People Believe in Education."

Gov. Bill Allain proclaimed the week of Oct. 25-31 as Higher Education Week to recognize the contributions of the thousands of faculty, staff and administrators at Mississippi's public and private colleges, junior colleges and universities.

More than 1,000 institutions of higher learning were expected to participate in the national observance, which established a theme based on the 200th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution.

The mayors of scores of cities, towns and communities across Mississippi issued proclamations designating the observance at the local level. Representatives of some 30 state higher education institutions helped organize the weeklong observance under sponsorship of the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi.

Mississippi Educational Television's "Access" program featured a panel discussion of issues affecting higher education Sunday, Oct. 25, at 1:30 p.m. in connection with Higher Education Week.

Members of the panel included Dr. Donald Zacharias, president of Mississippi State University; Dr. James I. Jones, director of the Mississippi-Alabama Sea Grant Consortium; Linda Ross Aldy, executive director of the Council for the Support of Public Higher Education in Mississippi; and Phil Hearn of USM, chairman of the week-long observance for the College Public Relations Association of Mississippi.

Panel to focus on role of service journalism

OXFORD—Distinguished panelists representing several national magazines and media companies will discuss the impact of "Service Journalism...Today and Tomorrow" during the 1987 fall meeting of the Magazine Division of the Association for Education in Journalism and Mass Communication at Ole Miss.

Panelists will include James A. Autry, magazine group president, Meredith Corporation; John Mack Carter, editor-in-chief of Good Housekeeping magazine and director of new magazine development, Hearst Magazines; Pamela Fiori, executive vice president, American Express Publishing and editor-in-chief of Travel and Leisure magazine; Dorothy Kalins, editor, Metropolitan Home magazine and David Jordan, editor, Better Homes and Gardens magazine. The discussion will begin at 9 a.m. on Nov. 6 at Farley Hall on the University of Mississippi campus.

"Service journalism is a large and distinctive segment of journalism in this country," said Dr. Samir A. Husni, head of the service journalism program at the University of Mississippi.

"In fact, people are beginning to understand its role as journalism that moves the reader to some type of action, whether that action is remodeling a kitchen, making educated decisions regarding long-term financial planning, or preparing for a family vacation."

Husni, who is also the author of the annual "Samir Husni's Guide to New Magazines," hopes the panel discussion will further help emphasize the growth and impact of service journalism, as well as to pinpoint its role in the future development of both magazines and newspapers.

The five-year model program in service journalism at the University of Mississippi was made possible in 1984 by a five-year grant from Meredith Corporation, a diversified media company headquartered in Des Moines.

Grandparents magazine, launched by Meredith in January 1987, was the result of a University of Mississippi student magazine project.

Meredith also endowed the University of Missouri with $1.1 million to establish a service journalism chair at that university in 1986.

HATTIESBURG—Ronald D. Phillips has been named to succeed Powell G. Ogletree as director of alumni affairs at the University of Southern Mississippi.

Phillips, 41, who had served as assistant alumni director since 1981, was appointed to the post on the recommendation of a special search committee during the USM Alumni Association's annual business meeting held in conjunction with the 1987 homecoming activities.

In other announcements during the morning session, longtime USM Public Relations Director W.E. "Bud" Kirkpatrick was named by the association as the university's "Outstanding Staff Member."

Kirkpatrick has been employed at USM for some 30 years.

"There are many opportunities for us to recognize the accomplishments of our alumni and to serve USM. I'm proud to be the new director of alumni affairs and look forward with great anticipation to helping USM grow and excel," Phillips added.

Ogletree, 65, is scheduled to retire Oct. 31 after serving as the university's salaried director and secretary of the USM Foundation during the past 34 years.

Phillips, who graduated from high school in Jackson, Ala., majored in radio, television and film during his undergraduate studies at USM while minoring in public address. He was active in student affairs and served as student manager of Campus Radio WMSU.

As assistant alumni director for the past six years, Phillips was responsible for database management, local chapter duties, coordination of major gifts, direct mail preparation, college and school liaison, public speaking appearances and special projects.

Kirkpatrick served as director of student activities from 1958-72 prior to becoming director of public relations. He served for three years as public relations coordinator for the state College Board and currently serves on the Public Information Officer's Advisory Committee for the American Association of State Colleges and Universities.

Watch ~~The Sea Coast Echo~~ for Hometown Bargains

WHAT IS A TOWN?

A town is a group of people.

It is schools
It is city government
It is churches
It is industry and jobs
It is retail businesses

They all have to work together. All must have the support of the people. Or there is no town.

Give your local merchant a chance for your business. You shouldn't spend your hard earned money with him unless his selection is adequate and his price competitive. But give him the first opportunity to make the sale.

For your local retailer pays the highest percentage of local taxes. He most often is the civic leader who dedicates his time and talents to his town. He is contacted first for contributions to charitable projects. He provides jobs.

Without his store you have no town.
